Constitutionalist Delegates Named But Progress is Halted by Attitude of Mediators

Washington, June 15.—President Wilson is today confronted by the danger of a double barreled deadlock in connection with the mediation conference. The two difficulties are:

First—The insistence of the Huerta delegates upon the designation of a neutral man for provisional president of Mexico and the unwillingness of the United States to accept less than a recognized Constitutionalist for that position.

Second—The refusal of the A. R. C. envoys to admit the Carranza delegates without an armistice and the refusal of the Constitutionalist to suspend hostilities. Furthermore, even if the United States were inclined to accept a neutral provisional president, the Constitutionalist would not assent to the selection.

Definite information touching both matters were received in Washington during the day. The official messages received from Niagara by Secretary Bryan were such that he found it necessary to confer at length with President Wilson. Immediately afterward Mr. Bryan sent a long message to the American delegates at Niagara dealing with the personal and character of the proposed provisional government.

Word reached Washington tonight that the mediators had answered General Carranza, saying that unless he agreed to the original stipulations of the mediators they would not accept the three delegates appointed by General Carranza to participate in the conference. It was learned here definitely tonight that the main point upon which the mediators base their refusal to accept the Carranza delegates unconditionally is the unwillingness of General Carranza to agree to an armistice.

The mediators also have insisted that the Carranza delegates must consent to the discussion at Niagara of Mexican internal affairs, but this was

Attorney General Takes a Hand in the Armory Matter.

From the latest report the work on the state armory appears to have been held up. At the last meeting of the governor and council this matter was under discussion for several hours, and it is claimed that the attorney general has taken a hand. It is understood that the governor and council are in favor of taking from the contingent fund the small amount over $15,000 to cover the original bid of Sages and Wood, the local contractors. The attorney general maintains that the fund cannot be used only in case of emergency, and that emergency in this case does not exist. The contractors have made several propositions to the governor and council in which they changed the construction plans to meet the several bids they offered. They finally agreed to build for $14,911. The matter will come up again today and Councilor D. W. Budger believes that everything will be arranged satisfactorily and the contractors ordered to proceed with the work.

NEWINGTON.

James Barnett Pickering and wife made a trip to Manchester and back in their auto last week.

Mrs. Philbrick of Massachusetts passed a day last week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. Albert and Miss Hattie Pickering.

James Barnett Pickering and wife, Luther, Walter and Mary Pickering, attended the graduation exercises of the Elliot high school on Friday evening of last week. Laura E. Staples, daughter of Mrs. Lyman Staples, a former resident of this town, was one of the graduates.

Willis Hoyt who has finished his first year at New Hampshire college is home for the summer.

Mr. William Furber is having his buildings painted. The work is being done by Portsmouth parties.

Mr. Clarence Pearson, wife, and infant son of Portsmouth, passed Sunday with Mrs. Lizzie Coleman.

Dr. Byron Staples, father, and sisters of Portsmouth, were calling on relatives on Sunday.

Children's Day was observed by the pastor on Sunday last. His text was taken from the passage of scripture where Jesus said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." Singing by the congregation appropriate for the occasion was rendered.

After the morning sermon the sacred rites of baptism were conferred upon three children, Kenneth Angus McCleod, Willis Coleman Pearson, and Gracville Shaw Knox. This ceremony left a deep and lasting impression upon the large congregation. The church was prettily decorated with buttercups and daisies, and flags were flying here and there about the interior of the church.

The children's concert which was held in the evening drew out another large audience. The children should be highly praised for rendering the hymns and recitations in such a pleasing and entertaining manner.

LOSS OF MANY LIVES FEARED

Paris is Swept by Devastating Thunder Storm and Taxicab and Pedestrians Engulfed When Streets Cave In Paris, June 15.—A thunderstorm of phenomenal violence raged over Paris for three hours this evening. It caused loss of life and enormous damage to property.

The great volumes of rain flooded the streets and caused the bursting of sewers. In the central fashionable quarters of the city a street caved in engulfing several pedestrians.

The number of victims is not known owing to the danger of approaching the immense piles resulting from the collapse of sidewalks and roadways. The police estimate the victims at 7 at least.

The most serious cave-in occurred at the Place Saint Philippe du Roule, at the junction of the Rue de la Boetie and the Boulevard Saint Honore. When the storm was at its height a sharp rattling sound was heard in this quarter and simultaneously 500 square feet of the roadway heaved up and sank carrying with it a number of persons who had taken shelter under the awning of the cafe. Water spouted from the broken main and added to the torrents from the electric mains, telephone wires, and the electric supplies were broken off.

The quarter was immediately isolated and the prefect of the Seine, with large detachments of police were hastily summoned but for a long time nothing could be done owing to the darkness. Firemen arrived with powerful gas lamps and with the assistance of gangs of laborers, began the risky task of exploring the wrecked street.

Meanwhile the occupants of two large houses at the corner of the Rue de la Boetie were ordered out of the buildings as it was feared that the foundations might be undermined.

As soon as he was informed of the accident, President Poincaré sent a member of his military household to the scene and troops were ordered to aid the police and firemen.

About the same time a large section of the roadway in the Place St. Augustin where the Boulevards Malesherbes and Haussmann intersected collapsed. A passing taxicab was engulfed. Eyewitnesses saw a woman's hand waving from the vehicle and the head of the chauffeur as the taxicab disappeared. Almost immediately a great flock of stones fell upon it.

A cordon of police and soldiers was also established here.

The flood reached a depth of three feet and swept everything before it. Almost at the beginning of the storm the roadway at the junction of the Rue Tronchet, the Rue Auber and the Boulevard Haussmann disappeared leaving an opening thirty feet long and 15 feet wide, into which the water from a broken main poured in a torrent. A pedestrian fell in but was rescued.

The cordon of police kept the people away from the roadway which continued slowly to subside. Suddenly a sheet of flame shot up to the house top with a terrific detonation. Gas from a broken pipe had caught fire and the crowd sought safety in the surrounding houses.

A sewer burst alongside the subway in the Rue de Rivoli putting it out of commission. Another burst in the Rue Boissy d'Anglais, carrying away many feet of the pavement and

FIVE-YEAR-OLD SAVES BROTHER

Plucky Rescue by Edwin, the Young Son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kay.

Frederick, the little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kay of Pray street, while at play on Monday afternoon fell into the river and had a narrow escape from being drowned. The only person to witness the accident was his five year old brother Edwin, who with rare presence of mind, pulled his younger brother by the coat and hauled him out of the water. The tide was high at the time and had it not been for the prompt action of the older brother, the river undoubtedly would have claimed another victim. As it was, the little fellow escaped with a bad fright and a wetting.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS SHUT OUT BY C. C. CO.

Coal Team Plays Fast Ball--Hefferman With Sore Arm Easy For C. C. Co.

The Knights of Columbus had a very bad evening on Monday and they tell an easy victim to the Consolidation Coal Company team. In a one sided game, to the tune of 12 to 0. The Coal Company played good ball, Pigrim pitching good enough to win and he received very good support. The winning team added to their strength by placing Walter Lynskey in left field.

The Knights had Kirvan at first and McCarthy at second, while Hefferman went to short. It was not a good combination for Kirvan, who is a fielder, does not know the position and he made three bad errors and McCarthy was as bad at second. Hefferman has a bad arm and after the third inning he just tossed them over to be humiliated. His arm has been bad for more than a week but the Knights have no other pitcher and he had to go in.

The ball was hit hard and Esterbrook on a line drive to center made a home run.

The Coal team checked once in the first inning, after Bruce had been retired on a grounder to McCarthy. Dowdell singled through second and stole second. He advanced on Esterbrook's out to McCarthy and scored on Cragen's single through short stop. Remick retiring the side on a grounder to Hefferman. They scored again in the second inning, when Bailey hit an infield fly near first and Kirvan and Hefferman did the "after you" act, and he dropped safe, he went to second on McCarthy's dropping a perfect throw by Bailey. Smart struck out and Pigrim was thrown out by McCarthy. Bailey advancing to third, from where he scored when Kirvan allowed Lynskey's roller to go through him. Bruce singled to right and Lynskey got as far as third but Dowdell's roller was easy for Reardon. A combination of errors with two hits thrown in netted the Consolidation five runs in the third. Esterbrook opened with a swat to center that was good for a home run. Cragen was safe on McWilliams' bum throw, a wild pitch advanced him to third and he remained there while Remick filed to Reardon, but scored on Bailey's grounder to McCarthy who retired Bailey at first. Smart hit to McCarthy who fumbled. Pigrim walked one through McWilliams and he went to second on the throw to third.

Lynskey hit to McWilliams who threw wild to first, allowing Smart to score and Pigrim scored when Kirvan threw wild to the plate and then to get good results Mercer threw the ball over McCarthy's head at second to head off Lynskey and he scored. Bruce retiring the side, McCarthy to Kirvan.

They did not score in the fourth but added five more tallies in the fifth. Hefferman tossing the ball wherever they wanted it. Bailey shot one through Kirvan, he stole second. Humphreys batting for Smart, advanced him to third, McCarthy to Kirvan. Pigrim pushed up a kick fly to right that Thompson obligingly dropped and Bailey came home and Tom went to second, on a passed ball. Lynskey walked and Bruce hit to Hefferman who tried to force Pigrim at third but he was not fast enough and the bases were checked. Perry batting for Dowdell drove a ball through short and it rolled far enough out so that Pigrim and Lynskey scored and Perry made second. Esterbrook pushed one past third and Bruce and Perry scored. Cragen filed to Reardon and Remick hit to McWilliams who forced Esterbrook at second.

The Knights got men on in the first and O'Brien around to third but Hefferman and Mercer fanned. In the second they had three men on but failed to score.

Beginning this week the games will be called at 6.10 until further notice. The score:

WILSON SENDS LETTER OF REGRET

Hon. Henry P. Hollis of Concord, United States senator, came to Manchester Monday morning and was met at the depot by the reception committee. He expressed his deepest regrets at not being able to bring the President with him and produced a letter from the chief executive.

It was as follows:

Dear Mr. Senator:

It is with deep and genuine regret and disappointment that I find myself unable to go to New Hampshire. I had hoped and intended to go, indeed, I had looked forward to it as one of those rare occasions which one can genuinely enjoy, but it is plainly my duty to stay here. The negotiations at Niagara Falls are making hopeful progress and are, reaching a point where it is necessary that I should be available for consultation at any time. My absence for a few hours yesterday proved so much inconvenience that I felt guilty at being away even for so short a time.

Will you not convey to my friends in New Hampshire my warmest greetings and say to them that I know they would not have honored me if I had not yielded to the impulse of duty in this matter? The very name of Flag Day excites feelings that it would be very gratifying and delightful to express and it is a source of great satisfaction to all patriotic citizens that the day should be so notably observed.

Cordially and sincerely yours,

WOODROW WILSON.

Hon. Henry P. Hollis,
United States Senator.

PEOPLES' OPINION

To the Board of Public Works

Are the tennis courts at the play grounds public? If so, why are the tennis nets ordered to be taken down at five o'clock? Why can not the working class have the privilege of playing in the early part of the evening after their work? Can you say that these courts are public when this privilege is taken away from the working class? From five to seven is the favorite time for tennis and the courts should be in condition so that they may be used.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat If You Feel Backache or Bladder Troubles You—Salts
Is Fine for Kidneys

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to flush off the body's urinous waste, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

CUBAN GOVERNMENT WILL EXHIBIT

At the Boston Domestic Science and Pure Food Exposition to Be Held in Mechanics Building, Oct. 5 to 31, including Municipal Band of Havana.

The announcement has just been made by Mr. Elgen J. Rowe, under whose personal direction the Boston Domestic Science and Pure Food Exposition will be given in Mechanics Building, from Oct. 5 to 31, that the special Commissioner sent to Havana, Cuba, over a month ago, armed with invitations from Governor Walsh, Mayor Curley, the Chamber of Commerce, the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange, and others, has succeeded in securing for this great fair in Boston an official Government exhibit by the Republic of Cuba. This has been done with the official seal of approval by General Marko G. Menocal, president of the Cuban Republic, and Secretary of Agriculture Nunez of Cuba.

The exhibit will consist of products and manufactures of Cuba, and will be identical the same that will form an important feature of the Panama-Pacific World's Fair in San Francisco next year, but will be seen here several months in advance of its display on the Pacific Coast. President Menocal is also sending with the exhibit the Municipal Band of Havana, considered by tourists the best of the many excellent bands of Cuba. The exhibit and band will arrive in Boston on a Cuban warship.

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD NOMINATED

Washington, June 15.—Nominations of Charles S. Hamlin of Boston, T. E. Jones of Chicago, W. P. G. Harding of Birmingham, Ala., Paul M. Warburg of New York and A. C. Miller of San Francisco, to be members of the Federal Reserve Board, were sent to the Senate today by President Wilson.

The members of the Federal Reserve Board were nominated to serve the following terms: Mr. Hamlin, two years; Mr. Warburg, four years; Mr. Jones, six years; Mr. Harding, eight years; and Mr. Miller, 10 years.

E. C. Simmons of St. Louis declined appointment to the board.

Thomas B. Jones, a Chicago lawyer had been selected for the governorship but with the coming of Mr. Hamlin to the board, it was thought that plan might be changed and the governorship might go to the Boston man.

Mr. Hamlin is an expert in finance, who served as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury under President Cleveland and returned to the Treasury Department soon after President Wilson took office, as the Assistant Secretary in charge of the Customs. The appointment of John Skelton Williams to be Controller of the Currency, left vacant the office of Assistant Secretary in charge of the Treasury Fiscal Bureau, and Mr. Hamlin was appointed to that place, which put him directly in line for promotion to the Secretary's office itself.

President Wilson, it is said, has been reluctant to appoint Mr. Hamlin to the Reserve Board, because he felt he was needed in his present position.

BATTLESHIP PUMP CLAIM IS PRESSED

Washington, June 15.—Senator Lodge of Massachusetts has received from the Cambridge (Mass.) Board of Trade a protest against the award to a company abroad of a contract for pumps for battleship 39, to be constructed at the Brooklyn navy yard. The Board of Trade urges Senator Lodge to support the claim of a Cambridge firm for the contract, for which it was the lowest bidder unless the pumps of the competing firm be admitted duty free. The navy department has the claim under advisement.

MEXICAN REBELS ARE MEETING WITH DEFEAT

Mexico City, June 15.—A message received by President Huerta says that the Constitutionalists, who for the last four days had been attacking Zacatecas, were definitely repulsed at 4 p. m. Sunday. It was a column under Gen. Benjamin Arguendo, which was sent from San Luis Potosí, which turned the tables in favor of the Government troops.

Gen. Arguendo quickly retook Guadalupe, a suburb of Zacatecas, which was in the hands of the Constitutionalists, and then entered the town and assisted the garrison to repulse the Constitutionalists from other points.

Federal cavalry was then sent in pursuit of the Constitutionalists, who fled in the direction of Veta Grande, north of Zacatecas. When the victorious Federals entered the town they were joyfully received by the inhabitants, according to the report. The Constitutionalists' losses are said to have been very heavy.

Rumors are current here that railroad traffic in several parts of the republic will be suspended this week, owing to a scarcity of fuel. War-

Minister Magaña declared, however, that the rumors are untrue. He said the Government had at hand sufficient oil and wood to move military and freight trains for several weeks.

Another important Government victory over the Constitutionalists is reported to have been won Sunday in La Ventana, about 99 miles south of Saltillo by troops commanded by Gen. Antonio Oles. Victory came after three hours of bombardment of the rebel positions in the hills east of La Ventana. The Constitutionalists are said to have been ably aided and forced to retreat in the direction of Huixtla. Their casualties are reported to have been more than 100.

ZACATECAS WELL FORTIFIED

Gen. Natera. Finding it difficult to capture—hasn't Completely Surrounded It.

Tarazon, Mex., June 15.—The taking of Zacatecas, now being attacked by the Constitutionalists, is not likely to be an easy task, according to impressions prevailing here today. The Government of the city by Gen. Natera, chief of the Central division, is far from complete. The Huerta forces still hold Culera, 10 miles north of Zacatecas, in spite of the first assault. The evacuation of Fresnillo by the Federals a few days ago followed a short skirmish.

The Federals are prepared to withstand a long siege. In the city large stores of supplies have been accumulated, and strong redoubts and extensive entrenchments have been thrown up on three mountains near the city. These positions, commanding the only approaches of the city, have an average elevation of about 1400 feet above the level of the surrounding country. An ample supply of food also has been accumulated.

MUCH PROGRESS MADE

Rebel Information Bureau Claims, "We Have Forced the Enemy at Their Best Positions."

El Paso, Tex., June 15.—The Constitutional forces under Gen. Natera have made much progress in attacking Zacatecas, according to an official bulletin issued last night at Juarez by the bureau of information. Gen. Villa's troops were reported as hastening from Torreon to the assistance of Natera's forces.

The bulletin said that advice from Durango City told of the taking of three strong Federal positions by the troops under Natera during the four days' fighting, ending Saturday. It was said that the final attack would be made as soon as artillery reinforcements arrived.

"Our troops are in fine condition," said the bulletin. "We have forced the enemy at their best positions. Our losses have been small in comparison to those of the enemy. We have captured many machine guns with ammunition."

It also reported that Gen. Hernandez had taken the towns of Panfagua and Amatlan, in the State of Mexico.

ARTILLERY DUEL ON SUNDAY

All Day at Mazatlan Guns Roared and Shells Flew—Governor Gave a Banquet.

San Diego, California, Mazatlan, Mex. June 14, by wireless to San Diego, Cal. June 15.—The artillery duel between the Federal forces and the Constitutional batteries continued all day today.

While the guns roared and shells flew over the city, the Governor of Mazatlan entertained a party of officials and friends at a banquet.

SCHOOLBOY'S AIR SHIP TO BE TRIED

Concord, N. H., June 15.—There was shipped from here today to Muskoka lake, Can., to be tried out there, a hydro-aeroplane, which is designed to be perfectly manageable in descent.

It is the invention of A. M. O'Neil of Pittsburgh, Pa., a student at St. Paul's school.

ADMIRAL FLETCHER GETS SUPREME FLEET COMMAND

Washington, June 15.—Command of the great Atlantic fleet, goal of every naval officer's ambition, is to be the reward of Rear Admiral Frank P. Fletcher for his work in Mexican waters. Secretary Daniels has announced that he will recommend Admiral Fletcher for commander-in-chief of the fleet to succeed Rear Admiral Badger when the latter completes his tour of service within the next few weeks.

Several of the navy's higher officers outrank him, but the secretary holds that the conduct of Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz entitles him to special recognition. Moreover, if Congress passes the pending bill creating the rank of vice-admiral, Admiral Fletcher will be among the first to be advanced to that grade.

The announcement of Admiral Fletcher's promotion, makes no mention of Admiral Badger, and the assumption is that his relief is officially regarded as a matter of routine.

The announcement disposed of the report that Rear Admiral Winslow, commander of the "special service squadron" might take supreme command in Mexican waters. For a long time Admiral Badger's successor was in doubt. It was known that Admiral Fletcher had distinguished himself in the eyes of his superiors, but the fact that he had been in Mexican waters for so many

Not the Right Remedy.

The tendency to seek in legislation a remedy for every evil, real or imaginary, was never so strong as today, a fact that is freshly illustrated by the action of a member of the national House who has introduced a bill making it a penal offense for any cabinet officer or head or clerk of a government department to lecture for pay, other than actual hotel and traveling expenses. The bill would also prohibit senators and representatives from lecturing for pay while Congress is in session. The penalty for violation of this law would be a fine of $10,000 or two years' imprisonment, or both.

There is no doubt that this bill is a direct outgrowth of the lecturing tours of Secretary of State W. J. Bryan. The author says it was prepared last September, but was not introduced when Mr. Bryan formally declared that he would lecture no more during the period. Recently, however, it was announced that Secretary Bryan and several members of Congress had signed contracts for a series of lectures to begin July 1, and this the author of the bill admits is responsible for its introduction at the present time.

The lecturing tours of Mr. Bryan since he became secretary of state have been the subject of wide and more or less heated and sarcastic discussion, and while opinions may differ, as is the case with reference to practically every question, there is reason to believe that the preponderance of intelligent public opinion is against the course pursued by the secretary. This is not because public business has appreciably suffered, for it has not, but because it is felt that for a man holding such an exalted and responsible office as secretary of state to go out lecturing for pay is undignified and in poor taste, to say the least.

But it seems childish to propose legislation as a remedy. There are some ills in life beyond the reach of legislation, and which must depend for correction upon a healthy public sentiment and a personal sense of propriety. If these cannot remove such an evil, or alleged evil, as this bill aims at, together with many others, the case is hopeless. Lecturing by government officials might be stopped by law, but violation of the proprieties never.

A few years ago United States Senator William Lorimer of Illinois was in serious trouble, as all will recall, and now the bank he established in Chicago has been closed by the bank examiner. Mr. Lorimer did not lose all of his friends when expelled from the Senate, and it is the general hope that conditions in his bank will not be found to be such as to reflect upon his personal integrity.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver, the famous reformer of boys, thinks the president should use force in restoring peace in the Colorado coal fields. He does not appear to feel that to tell the warlike miners to go home and be good would suffice, although it is said that men are but boys of larger growth.

There is some complaint because it takes the census bureau so long to close up its work, that for 1910 not yet being complete. It does not seem as if so much time should be necessary, but if the bureau will give every city and town the desired population next time all will be forgiven.

It is not all fun being an officer in Kentucky. I nan attempt to arrest a mountaineer the other day two officers were killed and several more were dangerously wounded. The only good feature of the affair was that the refugee was stretched in death.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Significance of Yesterday's Parade.

It is impossible to estimate the value and difficult to appreciate the full significance of the first general observance of Flag Day in New Hampshire. The central demonstration, the great parade and the notable banquet occurred in Manchester, as was fitting because of the suggestion by the Manchester Elks and convenient by reason of location, but it was more than Manchester's celebration. All New Hampshire responded, saw the significance of the opportunity, and made the day what it was. The grand parade, the largest ever looked upon in the history of the state, was but the outward and material manifestation of the sentiment of unity, of the consciousness of singleness of purpose as citizens of a common country. Had it comprised only men of American birth, it would have had its value in the fraternization of it, in the bringing together of men from every part of the state, in the better knowledge of one another. But it was vastly more than that. In the long procession were veterans of the Civil war, of the war with Spain, of the more recent Balkan war, and men who had served in the armies of Germany, Russia and other countries. Such rivalry as there was, was a generous and wholesome rivalry, the representatives of the several nationalities striving to do their best for their respective organizations, but all marching proudly and loyally under the flag of a common country.

A poet has vividly described a grouping of many nationalities around Pharaoh's throne, Arabian, Nubian and the rest, but in the parade of yesterday were the representatives of more peoples than he would have thought of including in that varied company, men of all political parties and of many creeds, all obedient to discipline, all recognizing the fundamental principle and necessity of order, responding cheerfully and promptly to the same commands from those in authority, and all marching beneath the folds of the same flag. There could have been no more striking illustration of the appreciation of the deep significance of the spectacle, not only to the thousands in line but to the other thousands who stood eagerly looking on, than if some apostle of lawlessness and disorder had attempted to make a speech or had cried out against God and the flag. It would have been so utterly incongruous with the universal spirit that, if interference by the police were necessary, it would have been to protect the marchers from stern men of every race represented. It was the one deep lesson of the day—law and order, human brotherhood, one God, one flag, one common purpose of good citizenship. Manchester Union.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

Woman's World.

The July issue of Woman's World is called the summer fiction number. It has a story, "Her Star-Led Court," by Maud Mary Brown, which strikes a new note. The question, "Can perfect marital happiness be found in a union into which either the man or the woman has entered with some part of the past life a secret?" is presented to readers and their opinion invited.

Of other fiction, "The People and My People," by Grace MacGowan Cooke, delineates a situation in which many a girl finds herself when she marries and is transplanted into entirely new ground. "When a House Pursues," by Elliott Floyer, is an amusing account of a family pursued by a house. The serial story, "At the Three Sorrows," by Alice MacGowan, is continued, and Bailey Millard, in "The Lady in the Car," depicts an incident common in daily life, but of human significance. "The Marriage Partnership," is the leading editorial, and it points out the danger of the drifting apart of the partners, due to the complete divergence of their interests in modern life. The concluding article on the subject of Dentistry appears in this number, and there are good hints on Counseling. Mothers will welcome the instruction given in "Care and Feeding of Baby in Summer," and the housewife will find the articles on "Economy of Utensils in the Kitchen" and "Summer Diet" especially profitable.

The other departments—Fashions, Embroidery, Beauty, Music and The Children—have suggestion, instruction and diversion which will assist and entertain each reader according to his or her needs and tastes. (Chicago: Thirty-five cents a year).

The July Woman's Home Companion.

The July Woman's Home Companion contains a great variety of fiction including the first installment of a four-part mystery story entitled "The Sound of Water," by Margarita Spalding Gerry. Other contributors of fiction are: Mary Heaton Vorse, Molly Elliot Seawell, Mabel Martin Dill, Frederick M. Smith, and Adele Randolph.

Special articles in the number full of ideas are: "The Business Girl's Vacation"—made up from letters sent in by various contributors; "Why I Shall Marry Again," written by a widow forty-seven years old; "How Not to Be Fat," written by a woman whose report and suggestions are so specific that she declines to sign her name; "How to Write a Moving Picture Play," by Daniel Frohman, the well-known theatrical manager; "Fifty-one Better Babies"; "The Queen of the Garden," in which Frank A. Waugh, the well-known horticulturist, tells how to grow roses; "A Girl's Rights," in which Christine Terhune Horrick discusses the question as to whether a girl with a comfortable home should earn her own living; and "A Two-Weeks' Vacation in Old England," full of practical help to anyone who would like to take a short trip abroad at small expense.

The regular Fashion, Cooking, Handicraft, Young People's, Tower Room, Puzzle, Entertainment, and Exchange departments are full of entertaining reading and good ideas.

The July Smart Set.

The July issue of The Smart Set combines a large amount of light, refreshing, breezy summer reading with a good proportion of strong, impressive material in its contents, and gives, besides pleasant reading for a careless hour on a hot day, a good deal of food for real serious thought, because most of the Smart Set stories are built around very strong definite ideas and are of the sort that linger in the mind.

Edgar Jepson's novelette, "The Night Hawk," is a story of a man about town who decides that the ideal life consists of sleeping in the daytime and enjoying himself at night. This sort of life as it works out makes a story that is full of unusual situations and clever dialogue of the sort that Mr. Jepson is distinguished for. There is nothing in this story but entertainment but it's full of that.

Edwin Bahner's "An Eavesdropper," is a story of more impressiveness. It describes the first actions of a man who was released from prison. And there is a surprise in this story. Fleta Campbell Springer's "The Pinner Sensibilities" is an account of a very unusual domestic situation in which a guest finds himself placed. This story is very human and presents a considerable problem in the way the guest handles his peculiar predicament. "A Good Influence," by Freeman Tilden, is pure satire. It shows what happens when wealthy people attempt to uplift the downtrodden. The dance craze is played up in a very up-to-date style in Grace Richmond Luther's story "She Who Hesitates," which shows how a couple were separated and finally reconciled through the influence of the latest fashionable steps. Donn Byrne's "Slaves of the Gun," is one of the finest war stories that has been written in a good many years. It is a tremendous description of a supposed attack on the Panama Canal and is timely owing to the present situation in Mexico.

There is some exceptionally good verse by Herman Jagdorn, Victor Starbuck, Faith Baldwin, Reginald Wright Kauffman, Ethel Allen Murphy, Witter Bynner, Harry Kemp, Ruth Comfort Mitchell, Laura Benet and Clinton Scollard, and there are numerous short sketches which round out a number made up of exceedingly diversified elements.

True Education

CURRENT OPINION

Country Ruled Not Through General Elections, but Votes at Primaries.

What we are suffering from is a chronic epidemic of sham—not sham virtues, but sham vice and sham alarms expounded and exaggerated by sham radicals, sham Socialists and sham reformers. We have become the prey of muckrakers and demagogues who minimize the big things and magnify the little things. These professional alarmists have no real interest in the moral or in the material prosperity of the country. They arouse the hysteria of criticism, or, rather, they manufacture it.

You may take it from one who has had some experience in politics that this country is ruled not through votes at general elections, but through votes at primaries. Until the business man is willing to leave his fireside and his slippers one or two evenings a month for political caucuses and political meetings and do it all the year around he will not get any substantial improvement either in the character of the laws that are passed or in the way they are administered.—By Eugene Lamb Richards, Superintendent New York State Banking Department.

Playground and Recreation Association of America.

Our schools must call out the creative instinct to shape material in obedience to imagination and causes the child to make mud pies and palaces. And that later finds satisfaction in composition of all kinds, whether in words, or tones or colors—even in the building of hypotheses, the instinct that is the germ of all creative work, without the exercise of which the creative soul of man cannot itself be born.

We must, through music, literature, give scope to the splendid rhythmic instinct that sets the small child skipping, marching, chanting—which during the earlier period of growth sets the whole world to music—which married to the creative faculty, is parent of all the arts and in the satisfaction of which more than in their so-called serious pursuits men often find their life, says The Mother's Magazine.

We must give wider scope to the important instinct of curiosity with its lessons in discovery, experiment, exploration. We must develop the nurturing instinct which so largely constitutes the spiritual life of girls—and of boys too, in a greater extent than is generally realized—by means of school gardens and by giving older children responsibility toward younger.

We must continue to see the instinct of competition which is so large an element in the famous Jesuit system of education. Some educators seem to think there is something vulgar about competition. If so, mankind must be hopelessly vulgarized from the beginning, in all its manifestations, from war to minstrelsy, from theology to baseball.

We must use to the full the basic belonging instinct which unites the gang, but has also made all nations and all associations of men, from Adam's domestic circle down to the latest college fraternity. There must be team play in study as well as on the ball field, and gradual suggestion of the civic and patriotic extension of the team.

Education in short, must bring out in each child the common life of humanity of which he is a product.

St. Nicholas for June

Baseball, a boy's game, is enjoyed nowadays by several million American adults. In like manner St. Nicholas, a monthly magazine for boys and girls, is undoubtedly enjoyed by a great many grown-ups. The June number, for example, has an article by the peerless ampler Billy Evans, called "The Unknown Regruit and the Pox Manager." Golf is increasingly popular among young people and Francis Quimet, national golf champion has an article in his series, "The Game I Love," in the current number. There are two short stories in this number:

WANTS A TAX ON POLLS

Inspector Says 1000 Have Been Removed But the Progress is Slow

Relative to the matter of polls throughout the city, Inspector Ballard has sent the following communication to Mayor Yeaton:

"To His Honor Mayor H. B. Yeaton.
"Dear Sir:—In obedience to your request I wish to state that during the past two years over 1000 poles have been removed from the city streets and it is my opinion that fully one-third of the poles now standing within the city limits might be disposed with. The companies are taking fairly well to the joint location proposition, but their progress is slow and I would recommend that a tax of one dollar for each pole above eight feet high standing within the city limits be imposed.

"This same situation confronted the city of Springfield, Ill., a few years ago and the city council passed an ordinance taxing every pole above eight feet high one dollar each. All the companies paid it except the Postal Telegraph Co. They appealed to the courts but the courts decided that any city or town had a right to charge a proper rental for any poles within the city limits and I think something of this sort should be done here.

It would not only reduce the number of poles in our streets but would increase our revenue several thousand dollars each year.

POSSE HUNTS HORSE THIEF

Exeter Man Steals Horse From Wife and Sells It With Wagon.

Dover, June 15.—The authorities of Dover and Exeter as well as those in the intervening towns are engaged in a search for Michael Marber of Exeter who will be called upon to appear before court charged with the larceny of a horse, team and harness owned by his wife, and which he disposed of in this city for $10.

According to the information received at local police headquarters from Chief Davis of Exeter, the man secured permission Saturday from his wife to use the outfit for a few hours. When he did not return Saturday evening his wife became suspicious and notified the authorities. The Dover police department was also notified and after an investigation in this vicinity Deputy Chief Phelanigan located the property had been purchased by Frank Towle who resides on the Middle road and for which four ten dollar bills had been paid Mr. Marber. It was also learned that Marber had gone to Kennebunk, Me., where the search is at present being made.

Chief Davis of Exeter came to Dover this morning and took the stolen property back to the owner at Exeter after identifying each of the stolen articles.

BOLT DESTROYS CATHOLIC CHURCH

Twin Mountain Edifice Struck by Lightning—Loss Is $7000.

Twin Mountain, June 15.—Lightning struck the Twin Mountain Catholic church here this afternoon during a terrific electrical storm and in five minutes the structure was reduced to a mass of ashes.

The church and its contents are a complete loss. The structure and vessels and ecclesiastical furniture were valued at $7000, and there was $3000 insurance and a mortgage of $600.

Rev. J. E. Walsh, formerly connected with St. Anne's church, of Manchester, was pastor of the church. It was built 22 years ago under the direction of Rev. De Channer, now of Nashua.

The devastating blast came shortly after 4 o'clock, and before any of the families who live in the vicinity of the building could even reach it. It was doomed with all its costly equipment.

While there were no means to fight the blaze, any apparatus would have been of little avail, as the lightning seemed to ignite the edifice inside and out at the same moment. Five minutes after the bolt descended there was not even a pillar standing to indicate that a church had once sheltered the spot. There are about 14 Catholic families in the parish.

OBSEQUIES.

The following acted as pallbearers: Thomas Danovan, William McEvoy, Michael Daley, and J. P. Horan.

TRAINING SCHOOL GRADUATES RECEIVE THEIR DIPLOMAS

Interesting Exercises at Assembly Hall—Brilliant Address.

The annual graduation exercises of the Portsmouth Training School were held on Monday evening at the assembly hall in the high school building, and there was a large attendance of the parents and friends of the young ladies.

The hall looked very pretty with its simple stage decorations of evergreen and daisies. On the stage were seated the five young lady graduates, with Principal Miss Mildram, Superintendent J. N. Pringle, Chairman Rev. Alfred Gooding of the Training School Committee, and the orator of the evening, Mr. Robert J. Sisk, principal of the Abundant High School.

The program was an excellent one, and the scholars of the sixth grade took their parts in a most pleasing manner, their recitations being especially fine.

The address of Mr. Sisk was very fine. He is an able speaker, who talks direct to the graduates in a manner that carries conviction, and the address was not alone profitable to the graduates, but the entire audience.

The essays of Miss Conlon on "Education as a Growth" and Miss Byrne on "The Teacher's Relation to the Child and the Community" were excellent. The graduates were: Anna Geraldine Byrne, Mary Katherine Conlon, Elizabeth Gertrude Goble, Mildred Eugene Gove and Irene Frances Johnson.

The program was:

PRESIDENT MAKES GRAVE CHARGES AGAINST BUSINESS INTERESTS

Washington, June 15.—President Wilson made the direct charge today that sentiment in favor of postponement of the Administration trust legislation was the result of a campaign by certain interests, and intimated that this campaign was the cause of the "psychological business depression" of which he recently spoke in support of the President's view.

copies of letters and telegrams circulated among business men calling for an adjournment of Congress without completion of the trust bills, praying for the freight rate increase being asked by the railroads of the Interstate Commerce Commission and urging for a halt of the "attacks on business," were made public at the White House.

President Wilson made it clear to his cabinet that the campaign, if such it may be called, would have no effect upon him, and it was his plan to push the trust problem through the Senate with the aid of all the means at his command. He expressed the view that business was no good if not better now than a while ago, and that it would be less harmful to the business of the country to have the trust legislation program completed than to be confronted with a period of uncertainty about what the antitrust legislation will be, which would accompany delay.

E. C. Simmons Circulated One Letter. One of the circular letters, which came into possession of the White House, was circulated by the Simmons Hardware Company of St. Louis. E. C. Simmons, the head of the company, had been selected for a member of the Federal Reserve Board and his nomination was to have gone to the Senate today.

This morning it was announced at the White House that Mr. Simmons had declined the place and that Charles S. Hamble of Boston, now an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, would be nominated in his place. While House officials emphatically denied, however, that the circular letter sent out by the Simmons Company had any connection with the declining of Mr. Simmons.

Another circular letter made public purported to have been sent out by the Pictorial Review Company of New York and was signed by W. P. Arnold, as president. It was dated May 1 and enclosed a draft of a letter, "which embraces the views of a majority of the thinking business people of our section of the country, and which should be addressed to the President of the United States, and the Congress and members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, respectively." The letter concluded:

"If you prefer to use copies of the enclosed letter we will mail you as many as you can conveniently use. It will be more effective, however, if you write them on your own letterheads."

The form letter attached was an appeal for postponement of the trust legislation and a 5 percent freight rate increase for the railroads.

A copy of a night lettergram, containing the contents of the form letter in condensed terms, was attached.

Sensation in Congress.

Not since President Wilson made his charge of an "invidious lobby" in Washington to influence tariff legislation has there been a sensation of such a sort in official circles. News of what the President had said and of the giving out of the circular letters spread quickly to the Capitol, where it became the subject of animated discussion in both Houses of Congress.

The letter purporting to have been sent out by the Simmons Company was dated June 8, which was after Mr. Simmons had been offered a place on the Reserve Board. This letter was not given out for publication with the others.

The Lowell summer colony at Kennebunkport, Me., will miss the old customhouse this summer; though it is missing in its official capacity. After 114 years of service it has been abandoned and the port officially abolished by the government, and the building will now become a public library. A century ago there were shipyards at the port, and many a staunch old vessel was fitted out there for a cruise to distant lands. Customs duties in 1823 were collected to the amount of $85,000 and for a long time after there was a respectable amount of business, even in competition with the growing port of Portland. But of late years not a dollar had come in and the port had literally died of old age. A few retired sea captains still living comfortably at Kennebunk, will probably shake their heads all summer to an ungrateful government, but they belong to another age—the lost age of a proud and adventurous American marine.—Lowell Courier Citizen.

PRESIDENT SIGNED REPEAL CANAL TOLL BILL

Washington, June 15.—President Wilson today signed the Panama Canal Repeal bill as amended in the Senate and agreed to by the House. The bill has been under discussion for some weeks.

There was no ceremony at the signing. Asst. Sec. Forster was the only person with the President. Mr. Wilson signed the bill with a quill pen used by President Harrison in signing the International copyright law in 1894 and by President Taft in signing the Lincoln Memorial bill and the act incorporating the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

The pen is the property of Robert Underwood Johnson of New York.

Rival Picnic Crowds of Russian and Austrian Poles Clash on Return to City.

Lawrence, June 15.—One man was stabbed 15 times and probably fatally wounded and a score of others cut and bruised during a clash last night on South Union street between Russian Poles and Austrian Poles who were returning from rival picnics in the South Lawrence woods. Knives were freely used, and when a squad of police reached the scene the street was strewn with bleeding men. Five arrests were made.

Russians Led by Giant.

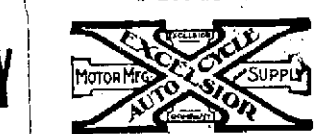

According to the police, the Russian Poles, led by a youthful giant, Edward Boroski, charged upon the Austrian Poles with drawn knives and rocks. Boroski, only 20 years old, over six feet tall and weighing 230 pounds, ploughed through the line of some 150 Austrian Poles. It took several police Pole, lying at 41 Milford street, was found unconscious in the gutter, apparently dead. At the hospital it was found that he had five deep stab wounds in his head. Two similar wounds in his chest which had punctured his lungs, and there were four deep wounds on his back and other cuts about his body. He recovered consciousness long enough to identify Boroski as his assailant, the police say.

Boroski was locked up on a charge of assault with intent to kill. A long-bladed knife was found in his pocket, which was covered with blood. The other four men were booked for mutual assault. Other arrests may be made today.

Wine flowed freely at both picnics. It was said, and the rival factions returned home in ugly moods. The police were notified of the riot by telephone calls and a squad of reserve officers hurried from police headquarters seized two automobiles and hastened to the scene.

THE "FURIES" AGAIN

London, June 15.—A bomb was exploded in St. George's Church, Hanover square, Monday night. There is evidence that the explosion was the work of suffragettes, and coming so close upon the bomb outrage in Westminster Abbey, the destruction of this famous edifice has increased alarm as to how far the militant women intend to go.

The caretaker of St. George's had locked the church after a careful inspection on the conclusion of the evening service. A few minutes after 10 o'clock a passer heard an explosion and called the fire brigade. The flames, forcing the doors, found the church filled with a dense white smoke. Three pews in the north aisle and three stained glass windows were damaged by the explosion while a pew immediately in front of the lectern was blown down.

Painting Escapes.

Fortunately the famous painting of "The Last Supper" by Sir James Thornhill, which hangs over the altar was not damaged.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Portsmouth Citizen's Advice

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinal disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and not time to experiment. These are frequently symptoms of kidney trouble, and a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys should be taken in time.

Doan's Kidney Pills is a good remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has acted effectively in many cases in Portsmouth. Follow the advice of a Portsmouth citizen.

B. A. Berry, 347 Congress street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "One of our family is employed on the railroad and the constant jolting and jarring of the cars weakened his kidneys. His back was very lame and at times his whole body became sore. Learning that Doan's Kidney Pills were a true remedy for kidney complaint, he procured a box at Philbrick's drug store and began using them. Before long a cure followed. From that day to this his kidney trouble has not returned. I also use Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me of lameness in my back and strengthened my kidneys."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Berry recommends. Foster-McBarn Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

PRaises HEROES OF VERA CRUZ

Officers and men among the American bluejackets and marines who distinguished themselves by conspicuous bravery and heroism at Vera Cruz were formally recognized and rewarded by the Navy Department. Every one of the 108 singled out for mention in Rear Admiral Fletcher's reports of the occupation of the Mexican port was given official commendation in a letter from Secretary Daniels, bringing word in most cases of medals, gratitudes, or promotions. Secretary Daniels announced the action of the Department in a letter to Rear Admiral Fletcher, who directed the operations at Vera Cruz, expressing appreciation of the admiral's "conspicuously able and courageous performance of duties entailing, as they did, as grave responsibilities as could well be placed upon a naval commander."

"In the Department's opinion," wrote Mr. Daniels, "your performance of duty at the seizure of Vera Cruz equal in valor to that of the well-merited praise and commendation that has been bestowed upon the officers and men whom you were directing. It is a pleasure to add that it was fully expected that no matter what you were called upon to do, it would be done with a spirit and degree of excellence that could not be surpassed and those expectations were met in every particular under circumstances requiring professional ability and skill and courage of the very highest order."

"Your part in the operations at Vera Cruz is known throughout the length and breadth of the land and so no apology for itself that the department finds it difficult to embody in a letter anything that could add to the satisfaction of having so capably performed under extraordinary conditions. A duty which not only upholds but adds to the best traditions of the service which you adorn. It is with pleasure that the department places a copy of this letter upon your already distinguished record."

CANAL TRIP IN NINE HOURS

Panama, June 15.—The sea going dredge Calcutra, a vessel of 3,000 tons, today made a complete continuous trip through the canal. The time taken was about nine hours.

The other dredges have been removed from in front of the Cuernavaca slide in order that an observation may be made of the movement of the earth. Colonel Goethals, governor of the canal zone, is optimistic over the conditions at Cuernavaca, which he declares he has viewed in a most favorable light since the work there began.

The prospects of the early passage of large merchant vessels, Colonel Goethals says, depends upon the complete stoppage of the movement of earth in the canal at Cuernavaca.

"TIZ" EASES TIRED, SORE, SWOLLEN FEET

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crushed, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—your feet will dance with joy; no more pain in corns, callouses and bunions. There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

NAVY YARD NEWS

The Naval Academy authorities are investigating certain circumstances which indicate that there may have been unfair methods used by one or more candidates for the Naval Academy who took the mental examinations for admission under Civil Service regulations last April.

It is rumored that one candidate and possibly others who was ordered to take the examination obtained some one else to take the examination for him, and that this person, who had previously passed an examination for admission himself, had no difficulty in passing the second examination under the name of the real candidate. If it is found that there has been any fraud in passing the examinations the offenders will be prosecuted and every effort made to make an example of them.
